Community Job Fair Coming to Mastic

Browning, One-Stop Employment Center to Host a Dozen Employers

Mastic, NY – Suffolk County residents seeking employment will have the opportunity to meet directly with employers at the Mastic Fire Department on Tuesday, March 26, 2013. Over a dozen diverse agencies will be represented and available to speak with potential employees. Legislator Kate Browning (WF-Shirley) helped to organize the event with Suffolk County’s One-Stop Employment Center in an effort to get her constituents back to work.

The “Great Recession” has had a big impact on Long Island, and unemployment continues to be a major problem. As employers begin to start hiring many residents will have an opportunity to join the workforce again. Legislator Browning believes it is important to bring these employers directly to the communities in need in order to facilitate the hiring of local residents.

“As we continue to rebuild our economy there are many good paying jobs starting to come back to Suffolk County,” stated Legislator Kate Browning. “This is a great chance for my constituents to meet face to face with companies and agencies we know will be hiring, so that they are afforded the best opportunity to regain employment. I urge anyone who has been struggling to find work to attend this important job fair.”

The event will take place from 10am-2pm on Tuesday, March 26 at the Mastic Fire Department. The fire department is located at 1080 Mastic Rd., Mastic NY 11951. If you have any questions, please call Legislator Browning’s office at 631-852-1300.
